

I'm so Lonely I Could Cry

Psalm 102:6-7

Introduction

- Millions of people everyday are crying on the inside, some on the outside because they are lonely. People from all walks of life experience loneliness. Money, wealth, position and power cannot pay loneliness to stay away.
- The author of this Psalm knew what it was to be lonely. He felt like a pelican all alone in the wilderness. He felt like an isolated owl of the desert, wondering "who gives a hoot?" Many of you are thinking right now, "That is exactly how I feel." Well let us look at loneliness from four vantage points.

Discussion

◇ Loneliness As A Desolate Feeling

- Matthew 14:23

◇ Loneliness As A Definite Fact

- Psalm 102:6-7

◇ Loneliness As A Destructive Force

- Psalm 102:6-7

◇ Loneliness As A Defeated Foe

- Psalm 102:6-7

Conclusion

- The greatest loneliness you will ever know is when you stand before the Judgment Seat of God all alone without the Lord Jesus Christ, and then to be banished forever from the presence of God, in a Christless eternity alone and lonely forever.
- But it doesn't have to be that way. If you are lonely, you come to Jesus and you will never be alone again.
